*The Class Of 1986
Dedicates This Year's
Recall To Carolyn
Potser*

Miss Potser is the grandame of the world of literature and writing here at Quakertown where she has served as English Department Coordinator for the last 24 years of her 35 years of service.

She is an inspiration to fellow teachers, administrators, and students alike and through the years has served as the stabilizing force in the development of the English curriculum throughout the district. Her unique style of teaching poses a challenge on one hand and a feeling of comfort and mutual consideration on the other.

Miss Potser's home in school is room 102 where she can often be seen chatting with former academic and advanced composition students who return to thank her for her thorough efforts in preparing them for the challenges of college courses.

We proudly dedicate the 1986 RECALL to Miss Potser, one of Quakertown's finest and best!

*In the scope of all our visions
There is an island in the sun.
And in the island that we see
Can be the dream of our eternity.*

*It is never known how far we'll go,
But in the challenge that our lives present
And in the sighting of those distant sands
Lie all the hopes and joys of life's demands.*

LAND OF STUDENT LIFE

A Traditional Halloween

What ever happened to traditional ghosts and goblins? They were not so much in evidence as usual during this year's Halloween season. Instead, students were found on "dress-up day" in a conglomeration of unique costumes such as Cupid, Alice in Wonderland, Queen of Hearts, and the Mad Hatter. Others included impressions of cats from this year's hit musical and characters from Star Wars.

The sophisticated costuming gave this year's dress-up day an air of maturity.

A Day for The Nerds

Are these new students clustering in the halls or are they the same faces taking on a new identities?

As it happened it was the same old faces taking on new identities as "nerds." It was the first such a day in the school's history and will henceforth be dubbed "nerd" day which will take place during the traditional spirit week in November

Broken glasses, lots of plaid, flaired pants, and geeky smiles were everywhere. Is there no escape from them? Is this the way they take their revenge? Thank heaven it is only one short day

An Invaluable Service

Mrs. Carlson

Mrs. Carlson talks to a student

An "open-door" policy

The help center became an invaluable asset to the Quakertown community over the past year. Approximately one hundred students took advantage of this service during the first part of the year.

One extremely helpful service of the help center was the Sounding Board program. There were trained volunteers at the elementary, junior high, as well as senior high levels. These volunteers provided confidential listeners for students who needed someone to talk to. The most contacts were made at the elementary level, but many older students also took advantage of this program. At the high school level, Ruth Collier was an invaluable member of the staff. She is a gynecological nurse and was available to talk with students about any health problems or just to answer a question.

Felice Massey and Linda Pasqua-Blaise were also on the help center staff this year. They were available from the Alliance for Creative Development, Inc. and are both specialists in adolescence. Both were available for counseling and training.

The Student Assistance Program core team, which was made of Linda Abraham, Arlene Price, Fred Richter, Fred Shipman, and Carole Carlson met weekly to identify potential problems in students. This was an important part of the overall program because it aided in the prevention of problems.

Two alliances were formed between the help center and the Y.M.C.A. and the help center and the Quakertown Hospital. In alliance with the Y.M.C.A., the Adventure Club was organized. This club gave students a chance to do things outside of school that they enjoy. Ski trips and sports activities were enjoyed by members. A youth center was also open to all students. This center provided a place for students to go and included a pool table, foosball game, TV, and stereo equipment. Awareness seminars about adolescent problems, including drugs and alcohol, were organized in conjunction with the Quakertown Hospital. A proposal was even made for a school-based clinic which would be geared to treat and deal with special adolescent problems.

Last, but not least, the help center provided a resource center which contained information and booklets on drugs, alcohol, sexuality, family concerns, decision making, depression, and eating disorders.

The help center was available and capable of dealing with a variety of problems. The staff was well prepared and truly cared about the students.

Prepping For Graduation

Preparations for graduation were being made as early as one October morning when seniors were measured for their caps and gowns. Seniors, that day, lined up in the wrestling room so that they could get their heights and heads measured. It was a strange experience because graduation, at that time, seemed so far away.

After a fast-paced senior year, June arrived and anxious seniors began to prepare themselves for the big day. Baccalaureate and commencement practices followed quickly as seniors finished their final examinations. The two days of practice were hot and tiring, but the excitement of the impending ceremonies carried them through. On commencement morning some seniors helped out by filling balloons with helium. The balloons would be released during the commencement ceremonies.

As early evening arrived, seniors walked out under clear skies for their last look at their high school years and their first look at a new beginning

Morrison (Dan Moreland) discloses evidence to Parker (Brant Fulmer) and Nancy (Jennifer Shepherd)

Irv (Andrew Gross) and Ricky (Scott Landis) corner the ghost (Delbert Roll)

It was opening night once again for the class play on November 23. Anxiety was running high and the make-up room was a flutter of activity as cast members made last-minute preparations.

The play being performed that night was GRAMERCY GHOST. It was chosen by the students themselves from a list of several plays. GRAMERCY GHOST is a comedy centered around the life of Nancy Willard (played by Jennifer Shepherd). Nancy, who is engaged to Parker Burnett (Brant Fulmer), inherits a ghost named Nathaniel Commbes (Delbert Roll). Nathaniel is doomed for a life on earth because of his past behavior. The humorous antics and experiences of Nathaniel, Nancy, and the entire cast added to the night's intrigue and entertainment.

Most of the actors in the play were veterans of the Quakertown High School stage. Returning from last year's play were Jennifer Shepherd, Kelly Purdy, Brant Fulmer, Jeff Bleam, Delbert Roll, Scott Landis, and Dan Moreland.

Mr. Walters directed the play and was assisted by Dan Kornegay as stage manager. Delbert Roll designed the sets with the assistance of Mr. Kraft.

It Was Heaven

Students were caught up in a wonderful world of fantasy and exuberance which indeed seemed like "heaven" on prom night of May 9. The music was provided by R.P.M. and the set for this year's affair was in the ballroom of the Allentown Hilton.

Students dressed elegantly for the occasion were seated at tables for four or five couples. The main dish was Chicken Cordon Bleu, but the dessert made the biggest hit. It was called Amoretto Crunch Cup. After dinner couples drifted onto the dance floor and became absorbed in the traditional atmosphere of prom night. The music included many current hits as well as popular "oldies." As the evening wore on, the theme song "Heaven" was worked into the program.

It was a beautiful night to partake of a little "heaven" and for seniors it will be both a dream and a memory. For underclassmen, it will be a night to recapture perhaps in another year.

STRONG TALENTS EXHIBITED

The spring concert of 1986 proved once again to be a very successful one. The Concert Band, Choir, Jazz Band, and Consort Singers performed their various selections which entertained the audience throughout the evening.

Each year, the Band and Chorus performs new features that are practiced throughout the school year. The Band, under the direction of their new director, Mr. Boyd, performed such selections as the "Invercargill March" and a "Festival Prelude".

As in the past two years, the chorus performed choreographed numbers such as the "Neutron Dance" and "Man in Motion" (St. Elmo's Fire theme). These numbers were choreographed with the help of Theresa Kocher. The Choir also sang some selections like the "Echo Song" and "A Neighbor's Chorus". The Consort Singers danced to the selection "Baby Come Back to Me" while other selections included "El Grillo" and "My Bonnie Lass She Smelleth".

The Jazz Band ended the evening with a usual outstanding performance of selections such as "Misty" and "My Romance".

1985-86 In The News

Gala Fourth Of July Celebration

On July 4, 1986, the Statue of Liberty was reopened after undergoing a two-year face lift and reconstruction. This day also marked the 100th anniversary of this gift from France.

One continuous celebration took place throughout the entire "liberty weekend." Events included a parade of the tall ships, a spectacular fire works display over the New York harbor, the swearing in of hundreds of new citizens, and the relighting of Lady Liberty's torch by President Reagan. President Francois Mitterrand was also present at the festivities, showing the re-dedication of the friendship between France and the United States.

Chernobyl Syndrome

On May 4, 1986, the worst nuclear reactor accident in history occurred silently and in secrecy behind the iron curtain. The accident was discovered by the Scandinavian countries when high levels of radiation became evident.

The Russian government played down the seriousness of the accident and did not issue warnings to neighboring countries about the high degree of nuclear contamination released in the atmosphere. Even as the Russian government released claims that only 20 people had died in the accident, American specialists in the field were being sent to the U.S.S.R. to perform bone marrow transplants in an effort to prevent further fatalities.

This horrible accident caused many Americans to question the effectiveness of our own safety regulations governing nuclear reactors in this country.

Oppression In South Africa Continues

The battle against apartheid continues. Apartheid which literally translated means "a part hate" is the governmental system which will not allow equal rights to blacks. Botha, the white leader of South Africa, began to make some modifications in the apartheid system but freedom for most blacks is very limited.

Even though there is a large majority of blacks, the white minority rules the country. Violent riots protesting against the government are an everyday occurrence. Hundreds of blacks have already died in an effort to overthrow Botha.

Hands Across America

On May 25, 1986, six million Americans joined hands from New York to California in an effort to raise money for the homeless and poor in the United States.

This event was followed by the USA for Africa project which also raised millions of dollars for famine relief in Africa. Celebrities including Bill Cosby, Dionne Warwick, Kenny Rogers, and President Reagan and his family joined hands along the route for the worthwhile cause.

Space Shuttle Disaster

On January 28, 1986, Americans witnessed on television the worst NASA disaster in the history of the space program. In an explosion that occurred only seconds after launch, the space shuttle Challenger exploded killing all seven crew members.

This Challenger launch was being followed more closely than any past launch because it was carrying the first civilian passenger who happened to be a social studies teacher from a small New England town. Her name was Christa McAuliffe and she was a believer in the need for space pioneering.

The nation reacted in shock and disbelief at the tragic loss, but even as investigations into the possible causes were being initiated, the president vowed that the U.S. would continue with the space program.

A Meeting Of Minds

Premier Gorbachev and President Reagan exchanged ideas and opinions in a super power summit which endured for nearly 15 hours during the winter of 1986.

Both leaders seemed optimistic about the future. Another summit was scheduled but was postponed because of the U.S.S.R.'s opposition to the U.S. attack on Libya.

In Answer To Terrorism

In retribution for the many acts of terrorism masterminded by Kaddafi of Libya, President Reagan ordered the bombing of strategic military outposts in Libya. While many European countries such as France, Spain, and the U.S.S.R. deprecated the action, the bombing by the U.S. Navy planes was meant to show those who backed terrorist acts that there is a price to be paid.

Halley's Comet On The Horizon

The year 1986 marked the arrival of Halley's Comet. The comet could be seen at various times throughout the year and is deemed a once in a lifetime opportunity to see the rare event since it happens only once every 76 years.

Election Fraud In The Philippines

In the face of election fraud accusations and other criminal charges, former President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines was forced out of office by his political opponent, Corazon Aquino. The new President Aquino swears to raise the standard of living for the many poor people in the Philippines and restore her country's honor and pride.

S.O.S. — By Students For Students

Student Outreach for Students (S.O.S.) was a newly formed group this year. A few students got together and decided it was time to show their peers that someone really does care. The purpose was to invite students to come to them to discuss problems. It took some time to get things started, but eventually the group became pretty well known.

The group really didn't have an advisor, but Mrs. Carol Carlson, of the help center, helped the team get started and solve any problems they couldn't handle on their own. Without her help the organization could not have been initiated.

Although most of the members were seniors, underclassmen have taken an interest so that the organization should be able to continue.

The involved members were Krista Bailey, Barb Fairo, Steph Cressman and Ted Wassmer.

Top Posters were made and sent to Palisades to show our support in a time of need. Above Ted Wassmer relaxes after an S O S meeting.

Right Hotline help phone numbers were printed up so kids with problems would know that there are places to call for help. They were distributed throughout the Palisades school district as well as our own district.

People And Places

LAND OF ACTIVITIES

The Jazz Band is comprised of stage band instruments only (trumpet, trombone, sax, and rhythm) and is selected by audition.

The Jazz Band members were, of course, the "cream of the crop" and displayed the kind of technique, ability, and potential that makes a group of this kind outstanding.

They performed at seven competitions including competitions at Methacton, North Penn, Upper Moreland, Whitehall, Souderton, and Emmaus. They were rated high in all competitions but their best performances included a third place at Methacton and a rating of excellent at Emmaus.

Their final performance for the season was given at the Heritage Music Festival in Washington D. C. where they put forth their most energetic and intense representation of their talents and received a gold award.

As the marching band season concluded, the band members started preparations for the Christmas concert as the Concert Band. The Concert Band met during period 10 five days a week in order to practice the concert material. When concert night arrived the band performed traditional concert pieces that left the audience in a happy holiday mood.

The Concert Band also performed in the Spring Concert on April 11 where the major work performed was Gustav Holst's "First Suite in E Flat." This was a warm-up performance for the music department's biggest event of the year, the trip to Washington D. C. to compete in the Heritage Music Festival on April 25, 26, and 27. At the festival, the concert band was successful in performing a warm-up and two required pieces. The concert band received a silver award for their efforts.

The band performed their last program at the Spring Arts Festival which resulted in a fun experience for the performers as well as the audience.

Singing, dancing, and hard work were all part of the constitution of this year's concert choir's success. The choir started the season with a performance in the Winter Concert which featured performances by the Consort singers and those people who auditioned for the Bucks County and District choruses.

On April 11, the mood of the night was modern all the way for the spring concert. Choir members danced and sang things like Chicago's "You're the Inspiration" and "Man in Motion," from St. Elmos Fire.

The Spring Arts Festival featured a tribute to Broadway musicals that have been enjoyed by people of all ages and through many years. Choir members had the opportunity to show off their musical talents by participating in the various groups, duets, and solos that were performed during the concert.

Choir members also joined the band members in participating in a national competition that was held in Washington D. C. The concert choir received a silver award for their outstanding performance and the Consort singers also received a silver award.

The last choir appearance of the year was the Baccalaureate service where the choir sang "How Majestic is Your Name."

Student Government

One of the most active of groups this year was the student government consisting of eleven different standing committees: Principals Advisory Committee, I.U. Forum Committee, Student Ambassadors Committee, Scrapbook Committee, Cafeteria Committee, Assistant Principal's Advisory Committee, School Board Committee, Activities Bulletin Board Committee, Assembly Committee, Service Committee, and Social Committee.

Each committee enjoyed the full support of the student government members and from this point forward will be a functional part of the student government.

Among the many activities the group involved itself in included Grandparents' Day, Teacher Appreciation Day, a Senior Citizens' Prom, a candy cane sale, and breakfasts for the faculty on in-service days. They also served in greeting and serving the Middle States Evaluation team who was here in April. Students will also remember the successful dance in October which featured Jerry Abear from 94 WYSP.

One of the major high points of the year was a blood drive in February when 90 pints of blood were donated in one day.

It was a year of hard work for hard-working members and advisor, Mrs. Quinke, but members can take pride in their accomplishments and will certainly be remembered for it.

AV Staff

Although the AV staff was physically small in number, the group took on the tremendous responsibility of handling the difficult job of distributing and collecting the audio visual materials that are used throughout the building during the school day. Approximately 24 teachers per day use equipment such as televisions, VCR's, tape recorders, record players, and video cameras. The staff must see that the teachers who order material, receive it at a designated time and place and that the equipment is picked up and returned to the AV room at the end of each day.

All sporting events that are filmed are filmed by the AV crew, and during the theater season, the AV crew sets up and tears down the lighting and sound equipment used for the plays, musicals, and concerts. The group also films speeches for public speaking and drama classes and, this year, taped the speeches for the student government elections.

The activity is specifically an internship for students who would like to go into a career in television or radio. "The AV crew's duties are varied and interesting," said advisor, Mr. Sharp. "We are always on the lookout for new sophomores to fill the gap made by graduating seniors."

The Anti-Smoking committee formed early this year to organize their annual presentations on smoking which were given in all of the fifth grades in the school district. The committee is made up of 25 hardworking students under the leadership of Mrs. Quinque, who has taken over for Mrs. Peischel. The students are divided into five groups, each with a senior acting as captain. The presentations were given during the week of January 6.

Each presentation was one hour and 15 minutes long and informed the younger students of the reasons not to smoke. Among the visual aids which were utilized were a lung machine, two movies, and foam lungs. The foam lungs enabled the students to see the immediate effects of what happens when a cigarette is lit. Each member of a "team" also shared information about various diseases known to be linked with cigarette smoking.

Mrs. Quinque feels that the program is an excellent one and that the program has met with so much success because it involves older students sharing some ideas with younger students in a positive way.

"We're always interested in new members and their contributions." That's the attitude Mr. Pilecki has about the Photo Club.

The members of the club take many pictures for the yearbook. They also prepare slide shows for the sports banquets, and for "back-to-school night." The photos on the school calendar are products of club members' efforts.

Picture-taking skills are learned through the club's activities. Also acquired is the ability to process photographs, using the school's darkroom facilities. Club members carry out their activities both during and after school hours under the supervision of Mr. Pilecki, who has completed eight years as Photo Club advisor.

Library Aides

Daniela Sacca, Laura Fluck, Donna Repa, Becky Bertley, Denise Mapes, and Becky Ewer

Librarian, Mrs. Haney

The library aides are often taken for granted or, at the very least, considered ineffective, but in reality they perform a vital part in the smooth operation of the library. Members are dedicated and work before, and after school as well as during their study halls. They help the librarian, Mrs. Haney, with tasks such as shelving books, magazines and other library materials. They also take care of many problems and questions students may have about where to find books and reference works.

Other duties include the checking of books in and out and the writing of student passes.

Running a high school newspaper is not an easy accomplishment and no students knew it better than the staff of the FIRST EDITION. There were stories due, always before they were written. Then there was the endless job of typing at least three times, once for rough copy of the story, once for a pre-final justification, and once for a final justification. There was also the job of pasting up the mechanicals. But, of course, to the true future journalists this seemed minimal compared to the exhilaration of seeing one's story in print with a by-line.

There were five issues of the FIRST EDITION published during the 1985-86 school year. Dawn Martin, editor-in-chief, took responsibility for assigning stories and overseeing the production of each issue. Staffers contributed under the direction of advisor, Mr. Mayer.

Members of the journalism/yearbook production class and other energetic volunteers from the student body became the friendly clan of "yearbookers." No one ever claimed that "yearbooking" was for everyone because it takes a special mentality to cope with the kinds of problems that forever face the staff. Students this year were responsible for 70 percent of the photography, all of the layout and design, all of the circulation bookkeeping and collections, and all of the copy writing and editing. It was not a small task but to the group that worked under co-editors, Barb Fairo and Felicita Min-otti, it was an endeavor worth the satisfaction of seeing their efforts materialize into the pages that appear in this book.

A major learning activity was the group's participation in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's yearbook seminar at Columbia University. Five students and advisor, Mr. Mayer, spent a day in New York City last November at the conference to learn more about the latest in yearbook trends and design. Those who participated in the Seminar returned to Quakertown to share what they learned with the rest of the staff.

Our Highest Achievers

This year, several seniors were honored as Commended Students by the National Merit Scholarship program. The program bases its selections upon the scores achieved on the PSAT/NMWQT test which is taken during the junior year.

The students whose selection index scores were high, but below the level required for semi-finalist standing achieved the title of Commended Student. These students are ineligible for the National Merit Scholarship, but benefit in many other ways from this special recognition.

Our highest scholastic achievers pictured above are also high achievers in other areas. Steve Muller is a top musician and a member of Bucks County Band, Bux-mont Band, Concert Band, District Band, Jazz Band, and Marching Band. He is also a member of the Executive Committee, and Rifle Team, and the National Honor Society. Steve plans to attend Penn State where he will major in Aeronautical Engineering.

Brant Fulmer is a highly talented actor taking major roles in all the school drama productions and serving as vice president of the Drama Club. He has served in many ways in support of the class, most recently with fund raising and as a member of the executive committee. He is a member of the Arts Service Organization and is also a member of the Winter Track Team and the Tennis Team. Brant plans to attend the United States Merchant Marine Academy.

Heidi Adamecz has been a member of the Chorus, the Girls' Basketball Team and the Band Front, and, of course, the National Honor Society. Heidi plans to major in Engineering at Cornell University.

Beth Gibson is a strong competitor on the hockey field. She was secretary of the Student Government during her senior year and a member of the class executive committee. Beth will attend Villanova University where she will major in sociology.

Debbie Atkinson has been interested in track and participated on the Track Team throughout her three years in the senior high school. She is a member of the Chorus and Concert Band, Girls' Varsity Club, National Honor Society, and Ski Club. Debbie plans to attend Messiah College where she will major in elementary education.

Alison Eyth has a strong interest in music and has been a member of the Bucks County Band, Bux-mont Band, Concert Band, District Band, Jazz Band and Marching Band. Alison will major in Electrical Engineering at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Girls' Varsity Club here at Quakertown originated over twenty-five years ago, primarily as a service organization. The Club is open to any girl who has earned a letter in any varsity sport. Initiation into the club takes place in the autumn when candidates must wear outlandish garb and undergo hazing by the senior members of the club. This year the inductees wore boxershorts, leotards, and fluorescent-colored shirts.

Leading the club were senior officers Angie Cygan, president; Jill Frederick, vice-president; Stefanie Richter, treasurer; and Melissa Fox, secretary. The club was headed and organized by Miss Michener.

Activities for the year included the annual Valentine's Day carnation sale. The club also went Christmas caroling at the homes of shut-ins and hosted the special olympics.

The Future Business Leaders of America has always been an active and busy organization here at Quakertown, for many years advised by Mrs. Barndt and most recently, co-advised by Mrs. Barndt and Mrs. Booth. District secretaries know the organization best for the lavish breakfasts that are served every year during secretaries' week. It is the one week of the year when secretaries are appreciated and acknowledged for their very often forgotten hard work and faithful service. FBLA has much to do with the promotion of festivities during the National Secretaries' Week

As a service organization the FBLA distributes gifts to the Children's Developmental Center during the Christmas holiday

This year five awards were won by club members at the Spring Regional Contest at Palisades High School Chris Mahler, vice president, won the Who's Who Award in recognition of her dedication and service to her school

The organization also participated in the regular regional meeting which was held at Cetnral Bucks last fall.

Student Government Leads The Way In Spirit . . .

Spirit was not lacking this year when the most active student government in years took command and lead the way. The first major effort went into preparations for the Halloween dress-up day and this was followed closely by activities centering around spirit week culminating in the Thanksgiving Day pep rally.

1) Mrs. Quinque, student government advisor, gets into the spirit of things during the Thanksgiving Day pep rally, 2) A sign speaks for itself, 3) Damian Fraticelli and Tom Wilson prepare for a Jello contest during the pep rally, 4) The "Bunny Hop" at the pep rally

And

Service

Of all the service projects that student government was involved in this year, their organization and sponsorship of the blood drive was the most commendable. More blood was donated than in any previous drives. Grandparents day and the senior citizens prom were also very popular and well attended. The faculty will be forever grateful for the faculty breakfasts that were served on three separate occasions. Members of student government also served as ushers for back-to-school night. In addition they were guides and runners for the Middle States Evaluation team.

Drama is not new to Quakertown students, but the drama club is new and was initiated this year because of the intense interest of more than the usual number of students.

Under the direction of Mr. Walters, the club participated in both the senior play GRAM-MERCY GHOST, and the student directed play, THE ROBE. For each production members helped with props, set design, prompting, and all the other activities that go into a successful performance.

The club also participated in competitions with other schools and learned some acting skills and gained experience from field trips to colleges.

It looks like the club is here to stay. Officers this year included Delbert Roll, president; Brant Fulmer, vice-president; Scott Landis, treasurer; and Liz Jennings, secretary.

On the night of April 15, the induction ceremony for the National Honor Society was held. Sophomores as well as juniors and seniors were chosen to join this prestigious group. Qualities which the selection committee looks for in new members are character, leadership, and service in the high school as well as in the community.

Along with the help of Miss Steckel and Superintendent Dr. Holbert, Mrs. Abraham, this year's Honor Society advisor, welcomed inductees into the society. Fred Hahn, Director of Pupil Personnel Services for the Parkland High School, was the keynote speaker. Mr. Hahn, a psychologist, talked to new and old members and their families about certain issues that affect their lives. He told new members to be all that they can be, and to be themselves. He also stressed the four rules of studying: to listen, to write things down, to set up an organized study time, and to review and repeat that studying.

The night was a night that the new inductees will remember because of the recognition of their academic accomplishments.

Debate Team

The Debate Team this year, lead by six of our most dynamic seniors and one sophomore, took everyone by surprise.

The major issue of the year was the question of how to dispose of waste and how to convert solid waste into energy. Our team belonging to the Bucks County Debate/Discussion League tied a very impressive third place among the many schools who participated.

Advisor, Miss Rosenberger, was pleased with the team's success and hopes to recruit more sophomores next year so that the team will have an opportunity for growth.

LAND OF SPORTS

Cross Country Dedicated To Work

The cross country team this year was a hard-working, dedicated group. Seven guys and one girl went out for the team. An official girls' team did not exist because a minimum of five girls must participate to have a varsity team. Melanie Johnson, a freshman, was the only girl on the team. She had a great deal of past running experience and improved throughout the season. Kevin Carter, in his fourth year of running for the team, showed leadership as captain of the team.

Mr. Sabol, who is a math teacher when he is not coaching, spent many hours with the team. He was rewarded for his hard work with a successful team.

Soccer Team Becomes A Threat

Although the scores didn't show it, this year's soccer team was much better than its 6-5-5 Bux-Mont league record indicates. The team played hard every game and was a constant threat to all teams in the league. Co-captains Dave Fratrik and Jeff Stoudt provided leadership and hustle, while seniors Louis Kassa, Matt Fachet, Allister Jones, Steve Noblit, and Rick Lane helped the team to a winning season. Key juniors were Damon Black, Jeff Campbell, and Bob Harlow.

Some highlights of the season were two 1-1 ties with Central Bucks East and Pennridge.

The leading scorer was Steve Noblit with nine goals and the Most Valuable Player Award went to Dave Fratrik. The team also placed quite a few individuals on the all-league teams. Co-captain Dave Fratrik was first team all Bux-Mont, while Steve Noblit, Louis Kassa, and Damon Black made second team. Jeff Campbell, Bob Harlow, and Hoc Pham were Honorable Mention.

Footbll Up's And Down's

The 1985 football team, had their up's and down's. The Panthers enjoyed three wins and although their defeats outnumbered their victories, they played aggressively all the way through. Their three Bux-Mont victories came against Upper Perk, Perk Valley, and Wissahickon. Another highlight of the Panther's season was a very well-played game against C.B. West. Although the Panther's lost, they played well against the team that went on to win the Bux-Mont title

The Panthers were led by senior co-captains Matt Hinkle,

Kevin Kershner, Todd Schaffer, and Dave Laboski. The leadership of these four was remarkable and was a help in guiding the younger Panthers in a direction of a winning team next year

Offensively, the panthers were led by senior Quarterback, Brett Handel. Other faces sure to be seen when the panthers had the ball were Matt Hinkle, Todd Schaffer, Mark Pearson, and Rick Steich

Defensively, the panthers were led by Dave Laboski, as well as Matt Hinkle, Todd Schaffer, and Dave Bleam.

Field Hockey

Skill, unity, confidence, and drive are words that describe the 1985 field hockey team. Although in the beginning of the season, the team was not picked to finish in either of the two top spots in the Bux-Mont League, let alone enter District I playoffs, the girls came out with the determination to be winners.

They, in fact, were winners finishing second in the Bux-Mont League behind Central Bucks East whom they tied (1-1), and later beat (2-0). The girls ended their season with a heartbreaking loss (1-0), to West Chester East in District I playoffs.

First-year varsity coach, Miss Kalazs, said "They enjoyed what they were doing and worked well together. They laughed together and they cried together." Coach Kalazs put in a lot of time. In return the team gave her a 9-1-6 record and a second place in the Bux-Mont League. The team feels they owe everything to Coach Kalazs for her constant encouragement.

The defense deserves a lot of the credit, too, especially goalie Barb DeRemer, who allowed only four goals scored in sixteen games. However, the offense held their ground. Kristin Gingrich, Dawn Trumbauer, and Angie Cygan were the leading scorers.

Tri-captains Angie Cygan, Cheryl Geissinger, and Stef Richter showed their leadership by giving the team the confidence they needed to succeed.

Girls' Volleyball - Spike It Down

The season started out with a bang when a record turnout of 24 girls signed up for the volleyball team. Since so many girls went out for the team, Mr. MacWhorter was recruited as a JV coach. This turned out to be a big help for head coach Steve Hagenbach who could then dedicate all his time to building a strong Varsity.

With the return of four starting seniors, this year's team showed a lot of promise. Sue Buzdagon and Monica Chia were the starting centers. Along with them were middle hitters Becky Eichlin and Sherry Thompson. Sandy Schey and captain Kerry Schaffer took on the duties of power-side hitters. Chris Bishop and Janet Yeakel were often called from the bench to help out.

The team finished the year with a record of 25-28. The highlight of the season came during District play-offs. The girls made an outstanding finish to the season by giving all they had and placing fifth out of eighteen participating teams.

Boys' Volleyball Team, Small But Agressive

Practice, matches, tournaments, and lots of hard work all add up to a busy schedule for the volleyball season. The team did work hard to make it a banner year.

Although the team was small, they had the strength and speed of any larger team that they had to compete against. The team had only four seniors on it, but underclassmen filled in the spots well.

The two coaches, Jeff MacWhorter, and Jeff Scott had a very successful second year of coaching. Under their leadership, the team won many honors. They were the Buxmont Champs, the third place winner in the Panther Classic, and the fifth tie in the Eastern Pennsylvania final coaches poll. Individual honors went to seniors, Steve Noblit, Dan Fitzgerald, and Alan Dutcher.

Girls' Basketball

The 1985-86 girls' basketball team started their season in November. They played four games (non-league) before the season officially got started. They won three. The game they did not win was a loss by one point.

The first half of the season the girls did quite well; they won 6 out of eight games. The two losses made the team stronger and more determined than ever. Mr. Richter and the girls set out to have an even more successful second half. They were determined to be the best they could be.

During the second half of the season, Coach Richter and the team won eight out of ten league games.

Traci Edinger, Angie Cygan, and Becky Eichlin, were key players. These girls worked harder than ever to improve not only their own records, but the team record as well. The girls took more shots, and made more baskets. They realized that the more they shot, the more chances they had at scoring. They were a big help to the team. Their determination pushed everyone else to try just as hard, and that they did.

Their final record, one to be proud of, was 20-9. The offensive average was 47.6, and the defensive average was 39.0.

The boys' basketball team has shown steady, if slow, improvement over the past several seasons. This year the team won a total of seven games out of sixteen, an improvement over last year's record. Even in the games that were lost, the scores were close and the team played extremely well.

Coaches, Mr. Keeler and Mr. Matus expressed their hopes for an improved team next season, especially since so many of the team players were underclassmen and will be returning next season.

Fencing Club Newly Formed

A new cavalier spirit infected our high school campus this year with the initiation of the new fencing club. It was a great success under the direction of advisor, Mr. Blake. Although fencing was not highly recognized this year and is not acknowledged as a team sport, interest in the activity ran very high.

The club met two times a week for practice and matches. Members learned quickly that it takes agility and a great deal of physical prowess, as well as endurance, to be effective at the game of fencing. Members of the club have been very aggressive in their recruitment of new members to come forward to meet the challenge.

The 1985-1986 Wrestling season was a productive one. Beating North Penn was just one of the many highlights of the season. During the North Penn match, three of our guys pinned their opponents.

Frank Nakata started the match with a 6-0 advantage when he pinned his opponent. Next, John Rittenhouse was beating Scott Geist 8-1 when he brought him down with 10 seconds left in the second period. John Rugg took only 36 seconds to take Dana Adams down.

Going into the match we were ranked second in Southeastern Pennsylvania. After the match we had a victorious score of 34-23. Another highlight of the season was when Mr. Evans got his 100th win here at Quakertown. The victory came against Central Bucks East when we crushed them with a defeat.

Yet another memorable event occurred only a week after the North Penn match. We wrestled against Hatboro to finish up the Bux Monts. With a final score of 54-6, the panthers were not only the champions, but the very last Buxmont Champions since the Buxmont League is disbanded.

Many individual wrestlers went on to districts.

This year's rifle team consisted of good, "trigger-happy" students, that gave their best shots to win meets and become Bux-Mont Champs.

Mr. Blake, the coach, led the team into victories in every match except two. Coach Blake provided the team with support, and the individual attention to keep the team's title. The team has held first place in the Bux-Mont league for the past four years.

The team's captain, Matt Hinkle, placed second in the individual Bux-Mont Top Ten awards. Matt was also named MVP

We can be proud of Deb Myers, who placed first in the individual Bux-Mont Top Ten awards, along with Jim Cleet, who placed fourth, Steve Snyder, who placed seventh, and everyone else for their great achievements

The Girls' Tennis Team this year was at somewhat of a disadvantage since it was the first season for a new beginning. The team did fairly well with a total of two wins. The two matches they won were against Upper Perk and Perkiomen Valley. The score was 5-2 in each match.

The team was coached by Cheryl Kline, and Dianne Long. First, second, third, and fourth singles were, Michelle Dellosa, Christy Dadonna, Elaine Willey, and Jessica Bakule. first and second doubles were Tammy Williard, and Mandy Rohner, and Joy Abbott and Amy Stratton. Third doubles was a rotation between Jodi Bealer, Sam Orlic, Becky O'Hara, Jen Sosnin, and Caroline Fraticelli.

The girls performed with determination and dedication that helped make the 1985-86 season a memorable beginning.

The girls journeyed to a camp for a week where several counselors taught them a new way to cheer and several new cheers. Everyone's hard work earned the squad many compliments on their improvements. Another change came when the junior varsity cheered with the varsity squad at the rainy Thanksgiving Day game in order to promote more spirit

Winter Track

The 1985-86 Winter Track team had a very strong season. Although the team this year was small, it was composed of many skilled athletes.

Coaches Mr. Sabol and Mr. Scheetz worked to help each individual improve his skills and help the team as a whole.

The team was made up of twice as many guys as girls. The majority of the team members were juniors and sophomores. The seniors were Kevin Carter, Sean Casey, Missy Fox, Jill Frederick, and Joanne Renner. They had a successful year and will be greatly missed.

The 1985-86 Baseball team had quite a few exceptionally good players. Todd Schaffer, a senior, led the team in hitting with a .432 average. Bob Reynolds, led the team in pitching with a 6-1 record. Other seniors with exceptional abilities included Dave Fratrik, Kevin Kershner, Dan Eckert, Steve Kirsch, Matt Gugliandolo, and Mark Butcher.

Six starters returned from last year's team. They were seniors, Dave Fratrik, Todd Schaffer, Dan Eckert, Kevin Kershner, Mark Butcher, and junior, Scott Reichley.

The team had a 4-0 pre-season, non-league record. They did not fair as well in the Buxmonts where their record was 3-13. The three wins were against Pennridge, Upper Perk, and C.B. East. They won the C.B. East game in the last inning by back-to-back homeruns by Schaffer and Reichley.

Principal, Miss Steckel

Seniors:

If you can learn to love and nurture yourself, you will find yourself richer than you ever imagined. You will still be beset by real problems and suffer real defeats. Life is not a picnic or a rose garden. The world is not run for your benefit. There is no escaping the human condition, which involves pain, difficulty, and loss. But you can bring everything you have to bear on the challenges life presents and make the very most of what it offers you.

If you liberate yourself from your fantasies and learn where your real resources lie, the whole world is waiting to be explored.

"Whatever you can do or dream, you can begin it. Boldness has genius, power, and magic in it."

Dearest Seniors

As Seniors your enjoyment and satisfaction should be tremendous. Your relationships and education will help you succeed in your endeavors.

As I look back over the 1985-86 school year I remember relationships with many of you. I've enjoyed the opportunity of seeing you do well socially, academically, and athletically. I appreciated the chance to be part of the most successful winter sports season in the history of Quaketown Senior High School.

As a member of this community I'm sure our paths will cross again—be positive and enjoy life.

Sincerely,
Fred Richter

Assistant Principal, Mr. Oravitz

Dear Seniors

A major part of your life has been spent in schools surrounded by adults who have given you a great deal of support, direction, and encouragement. As adults it is now time for you to begin to develop your independence. Many of you will establish this independence either in college or in your field of work. This new-found independence will present you with chosen challenges that you have never experienced. How you meet and solve these challenges will be extremely important in the development of you as a person.

Each of you possesses the ability to successfully solve these challenges. As you pursue this independence I wish you health, success, and happiness in your future endeavors.

Sincerley,
Steven Oravitz

LAND OF STUDIES

Reading classical works forever were and still are an important part of the English curriculum. In addition there was also the study of grammar and vocabulary and, of course, the basics of good writing. In tenth grade we intensively studied grammar for the last time and read such long works as Animal Farm, Julius Ceasar, and Of Mice and Men.

In eleventh grade the philosophies of Emerson and Thoreau were studied and words like transcendentalism, romanticism and realism became the ones to define. The Scarlet Letter, Death of a Salesman, and to Kill a Mockingbird were studied in depth and the first encounter with a full length reference paper was undertaken.

As seniors, students took on the world of English literature with works such as Lord of the Flies, Brave New World, 1984, and Heart of Darkness. Great works and giant names from the past became part of the present with the study of works by Milton, Shakespeare, Chaucer, Goldsmith, Swift, Wordsworth and so many others. The last high school reference paper was submitted as the school year came to a close.

Mathematics

At Quakertown Senior High School there is a very extensive math department. The various courses available to the students are Algebra I and II, Plane and Solid Geometry; Trigonometry; Calculus I, II, III, General Mathematics II, II Computer Programming and Statistical Processing, Computer Programming and Advanced Mathematics Pascal; Computer Programming II and Foundations of Mathematics.

Courses are designed to prepare students for handling the very basic math procedures to the most complex problems treated in high school in preparation for college work. If a challenge is sought, the math department can give it.

Social Studies

With the threat of terrorist attacks more prevalent than ever, both here and abroad, it is more important than ever before to have a good understanding of how our country stands in relation to both our allies and our enemies. We need a working understanding of the evolvement of present attitudes and our political science courses address these issues in the senior year.

Sophomores learn the ways and habits of many countries in their studies in World Cultures class and juniors learn about the political background and history of our own country in U.S. History. There are also elective courses in sociology and psychology.

A busy science class

Chris Lutchendorf and Tim Henricks work intently in biology class

The study of science does not include only memorization, formulas, and labs. There is also some room for creativity. This year, the Astronomy class, with plenty of hard work put on a spectacular Planetarium Christmas show for the whole community. Not only did the students use what they had learned, but they made it entertaining for others.

There are only two science courses that are required. These are the tenth grade studies of Biology and Ecology. In Biology, students participate in simple labs and dissections and study living organisms. In Ecology, students study about organ systems, cells, and organisms.

Astronomy, is an elective science course for any student who has had some Geometry. Other electives include Chemistry, Physics, and Advanced Biology. Chemistry involves the study of ions and the earth's elements. Physics students are taught dynamics, and students in Advanced Biology learn dissections, genetics, and bacteriology, all necessary for the college bound.

Business Skills

The Business department is designed to accommodate those students who do not wish to go to college, but do want to pursue a business-related career. College prep students may also opt for business courses to gain skills in typing and accounting.

The curriculum includes Money Management, Business Law, Accounting, Stenography, Typing, and Business Machines. Business students finish their three-year study with a work experience for a period of one week. They work for local businesses in the community.

The FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) is not only a competitive group in competitions with other schools but it has also become an important service club in the community. Mrs. Barndt and Mrs. Booth are co-advisors for the group.

An important requirement for entrance to many good colleges and universities is a language requirement involving two to three years of a foreign language. The language department is concerned with giving every student an opportunity of fulfilling his language requirement by offering French, German, and Spanish on a four-level basis.

French is taught by Mademoiselle Rooney on all four levels. Students start in Junior high with a basic introduction that enables them to communicate effectively. They gradually work their way into some classics and modern literature and the upperclass students highlight the year with an annual Buche de Noel contest right before the Christmas holidays.

German is taught by Frau Sieber. Frau Sieber organizes trips abroad to Germany on an alternate-year basis for students who wish to travel during the summer. Upperclassmen spend their class time in conversational German and German literature.

Spanish is taught by Senor Donchez. This is probably the most popular of the foreign languages and by the close of a student's fourth year of class, he is conversing easily and also comprehending what he reads.

The highlight for the music department this year was the competition in Washington, D. C. where both the chorus and the band brought home silver medals. It was a busy year as always with many individuals going onto win major awards and perfect their talents. There was no musical in connection with the Spring Arts Festival this year but both the band and chorus performed in a tribute to Broadway with a review of some of the most popular songs.

Priding itself as one of the best, the jazz band again proved its talents in many competitions. There were also as many as or more individuals this year selected to the District and Regional Band and Chorus than in any prior year.

In addition to the spring and winter concerts, the band performed at all football games, pep rallies, parades, and Baccalaureate and Commencement.

Arts And Crafts

Fine Arts and Crafts are the two major areas of study in the arts program and art majors may choose from one or the other. There are also offerings for none-art majors in the same areas of study.

In conjunction with the art department, the Arts Service Organization works many long hours on such projects as stage sets and most recently, the backdrop for the commencement exercises. The fine arts classes work in lettering and design and forms for commercial art. Crafts classes work with ceramics, leather, sculpture, and printing.

Students work under the direction of Mrs. Quinke in Crafts, and Mr. Kraft in Fine Arts.

Physical Education

Physical Education is designed to give senior high students an opportunity to exercise skills, concepts, and strategies previously acquired. It also gives the students the chance to develop new skills within the parameters of activities made appropriate to the student's level.

Being physically conditioned is a big part of physical education and is an important part of the curriculum. All students must perform to the best of their abilities.

Three years of Physical Education are required for all Quaker-town High School students.

Variety Adds Spice To Home Economics Courses

Whether it may be homemaking skills, parenting skills, clothing construction, tailoring, gourmet foods, or a study of international cuisine, the home economics department offers them all. In homemaking and food preparation classes students study about the four food groups, preparing a full course meal, and above all, making the dinner look appetizing and attractive.

In the parenting course, students are taught the basics of being a good parent. One required and popular project for the year is raising an egg. Each student receives a raw egg and must take care of it as he would a child. Certain requirements and stipulations go with the care of the egg, and, of course, under no circumstances must the egg be cracked or broken. At all times the egg must be properly dressed.

All the courses in the department are taught by Mrs. Peck. While she was on a maternity leave during the second half of the school year, Mrs. Young took over for her. Mrs. Peck will be returning for the 1986-87 school year.

Mrs. Peck teaches Clothing Construction, General Home Economics, Gourmet, Seasonal Foods, Parenting, and International Food.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts course in Quakertown provides an excellent opportunity for those students who want to work for themselves. From courses like Industrial Arts I to Industrial Materials III, students learn to design and produce their own projects while they also acquire skill in the basics of graphic arts and metal shop.

The project part of the course is taught by Mr. Meeker. There are three technical drawing courses also. They are taught by Mr. Mease. These courses involve the basics such as drafting to the more involved production illustration.

Health, Everyone's Business

This year's health classes were as interesting as they were beneficial for all juniors. The course was taught by a new teacher to the senior high school, Mr. Shobert. He used a variety of methods to introduce and teach students about current health topics. Units studied included sections on drugs, alcohol, sexuality, nutrition, physical fitness, and mental health. This, of course, was in addition to other basics about the operation of the human body.

Guest speakers included our school nurse, Mrs. Price, who spoke about birth control. There was a representative from the Katherine Gibbs School who presented a film on eating disorders and a representative from Planned Parenthood who spoke about sexuality.

Video cassettes of movies such as An Early Frost in connection with AIDS and Shattered Spirits about alcoholics were viewed and discussed.

The course is a required course, not only from the point of view of the curriculum, but also because it deals with issues and topics that every graduate should be aware of before he leaves the school system.

Mr. Shobert teaches Health, is the head football coach and also advised the S.A.D.D. organization.

Students work in committee during health class.

A Program With A Difference

Mr. Fox, guidance counselor for the educational internship

If one happens to see high school students walking out of school at any and all times during the school day, one may not assume that they are cutting classes. They may be walking over to a special kind of class called the Educational Internship.

Responsible students in grades 10, 11, or 12 may take part in the "hands-on" training and experience. Everyday, in all kinds of weather students in the program venture out to go to their assigned classrooms and teachers. They may be assigned to one of the junior high schools or to one of the elementary schools.

Once at their assignment, they do a variety of tasks. Some interns help teachers prepare for lessons, some correct homework, and some help students on a one-on-one basis. Interns enjoy the atmosphere and working with young students.

Leslie Carcanague, a senior this year, has been an intern for two years. She works with students in the third and fourth grades who have learning disabilities. When the teacher, Mr. Weider, gives his students assignments, Leslie works with the children to help them understand what is expected of them.

She enjoys the satisfaction she feels in knowing that she can help these students and that they are learning.

Leslie plans to major in elementary education so the program has been invaluable to her and has made her more positive than ever that she wants to be a teacher.

Leslie Carcanague

Sue Rubart

Sue Rubart has been an intern for one year. She helps in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades and like Leslie, works with students who have learning disabilities.

Sue is an aid for Miss Laubach and spends most of her time helping students understand what they read on an individual basis.

Sue enjoys working with young students and is planning a career that will involve work with young children, as well as adults.

"Gotta" Have Driver Education

Driver Education is just one of the many courses required for all Sophomore students. Graduation from high school is impossible without credit for the course and a low grade in the course can adversely affect an accumulative average.

Mr. Atkinson filled in for the first half of the year for Mr. Ebersberger who was on sabbatical. Mr. Kane taught the behind-the-wheel course.

The required course of Theory of Driver Education consists of book work, note taking, the viewing of filmstrips, and the viewing of several movies. Students are graded on work in and out of class, on quiz grades, and on extra projects.

Behind the wheel is also offered here at the high school for any students having a permit and wanting actual driving experience. This part of the course is optional and may be taken in eleventh or twelfth grades.

Mr. Atkinson teaches Driver Education, Behind the-Wheel Training and is an assistant football coach.

A group of hard-working students listens attentively to a talk on how to be a safe driver.

Students who were certain of a vocational pursuit but were uncertain about attending post graduate school elected to attend the Upper Bucks County Technical School where they participated in courses designed to give them hands on experience. Half day sessions were attended in the high school and one half of the day was spent at the tech school where Quakertown students were able to acquaint themselves with students from Pennridge and Palisades.

Many students who pursued technical areas of study will go on to four year schools but will have the added advantage of a practical background. Students in the vocational areas of study are always assured of jobs upon graduation from high school.

Voices Of Experience

Brian Guent - "If you are interested in a trade, the tech school has the program."

Tracy Link - "Don't be afraid to try to do your best at something."

Lori Kramer - "I gained a lot of knowledge of something I never would've been able to do without going to tech school"

George Wentling - "Your high school years are your best and most important, so do your best at what you do and learn some new talents."

Michael Henshaw - "Find some shop you really like; learn the trade and try to be very good at it."

Students Express Feelings About Tech School

Christine Ramassini - "If you feel that one of the tech courses has something to do with what you want to do, you should definitely go."

Alan Afflerbach - "Go out for it and stick with it."

Shawna Wenhold - "I've got a job and I'm still learning more."

John Wilhelm - "I recommend going to the Tech School for any class; it will help."

Karen King - "The fact that when I was little I loved to play with hair on my dolls influenced me to go to Tech for the cosmetology program."

The inexperienced sophomores who came into the Quakertown Senior High School in the autumn were not the same students who left in the spring well on their way to becoming juniors. Sophomores were off to a good start last fall when they elected the class officers. Tom Wilson became president; Rick Loy, vice-president; Marta Shoberl, treasurer; and Dave Moyer, secretary. Class advisors, Ms. Byatt and Ms. Troiani also worked very hard to make the first year of the sophomore adventure a great success.

After the initial excitement the real work of fundraising was undertaken. The first campaign was the sale of "lolligrams" which were handed out to students when report cards were distributed. The object was to send a message to a friend to cheer him when he received his grades.

Sophomores got into the Christmas spirit early with the sale of Christmas ornaments. It too, was a great financial success. But if the objective of a class trip was to be met, there could be no let up in the financial planning. Another campaign was undertaken in February; this time it was memo pads and candy. In May the class sold tickets for the annual ticket day at Dorney Park.

Now with the first year underway, sophomores feel confident that they will be taking a class trip in April of '88.

The class of 1988 is very special to me because we started out at Quakertown Community High School together. While I was trying to help the class find its place here, they helped in the same way.

Miss Byatt

It's nice to see an entire class work together towards a common goal-raising funds for the class trip and the prom. I'm sure I will enjoy participating as well.

Shana Tremer Sophomore Skater

When she was eight years old, Shana Tremer's father and stepmother took her to an ice skating rink, where she had become really interested in skating. Now after 7 years of hard work, Shana's ready to reap the benefits.

Shana has set the distant goal of going to the Olympics, but in the near future, she would like to make the Novice Nationals in 1986. To get there, she must compete in a regional competition called the South Atlantics. The South Atlantics will be held in Pittsburg and Shana must place in the top four to go on to the Easterns. The Easterns is a sectional competition and is being held in Boxborough, Mass. If she places in the top four, she will go on to the Nationals which are held in Long Island, N.Y.

Shana has competed 59 times and has won 54 medals. She has 38 gold, 11 silver, and 5 bronze.

She practices 3 to 4 hours on weekdays and 5 to 6 hours on Saturdays with Sundays as a day off. She skates at the Philadelphia Skating Club and at the Humane Society in Ardmore, PA.

Shana would like to go to college to major in Law. she usually gets A's and B's in school, so it is apparent that skating does not get in the way of her studies.

Even with skating, Shana doesn't miss out on being a normal teenager. She meets many people and makes many new friends at the rink. She also enjoys going to as many school events as possible.

Jennifer And Her Clarinet

Jennifer Shutters, a sixteen year old Quakertown sophomore is an excellent example of the talent the sophomore class here at Quakertown Community High School possesses. Jennifer has an unbelievable ability to play the clarinet. She began in fifth grade taking lessons from the school and soon afterward she began to take private lessons as well.

Jennifer's talent can be easily observed by looking at her past accomplishments. Beginning in seventh grade she has made first chair every year at Bucks County Band. This year she participated in Bux-Mont band, district band, and regional band, as well as the county band. Last summer Jennifer was chosen by the Lions' Club to represent Pennsylvania in the All-State Band. She traveled to Clarion University for three days and Dallas, Texas for seven days for this event.

Juniors Make Plans For April, 1987

With the help of co-advisors Miss Rooney and Mr. Kraft, the Junior Class had a very successful year. They have progressed well on their way to their Senior Class Trip in April of 1987. The efforts of the juniors were divided into various areas of work. The advisors helped the officers plan the fund-raisers and activities which were all a tremendous success. The Junior Class is lead by Jamy Ritter, President; Kevin Laboski, vice president; Michelle Deloso, secretary; and Carolyn Barrow, treasurer.

The first fund-raiser for the Junior Class was held in the autumn. The class reorganized for the school year and began selling cheese and sausage in Mid-October. This sale was extremely successful with prizes given to the top three sellers.

The class had two activities planned for the Christmas holidays. First, the executive committee helped the students at a local elementary school. The volunteers answered letters from first and second graders to Santa Claus. The entire class participated in the selling of Christmas candy. This fund-raiser again turned out to be a financial success.

Juniors also had the opportunity to work the refreshment stand at the home wrestling matches and boys' basketball games.

Another tremendous undertaking of the class was the Prom. This task began in January and ended on May 9, the night of the prom, the best attended prom in the school history.

In March, the Junior Class ended their Fund-raisers with a cookie-pie sale which again turned out to be a money maker.

Look Out Liberachi!

Barb Pickard may not be a familiar name to all of you, but someday it might be. Barb is a very talented girl of sixteen who, without a doubt, has a great ear for music.

Barb is a star flute player in the Quakertown Marching Band but her favorite instrument is the piano. She also plays the clarinet and her family's new synthesizer.

Barb has played the flute for seven years and the piano for ten. The piano is her favorite because after ten years of hard work, it seems natural, and Barb likes the sound.

After high school, Barb would like to continue her chosen career in music through Berklee College of Music in Boston where she would like to major in Sound Studio Recording.

When asked who she would most like to be like, she replied, "Phil Collins."

Jamy Ritter-Star Wrestler

When it comes to wrestling, winning is Jamy Ritter's middle name. This junior, who has qualified for states in all three years of his high school career, began wrestling when he was four years old.

Inspired by his cousin Rod, and all of his coaches, Jamy Ritter has, as a co-captain, lead his team to an all Bux-Mont championship. Of the championship he said, "It makes you feel real good because winning makes you feel that you accomplished what you set out to do."

Jamy lives in Quakertown. In his spare time he likes to eat, relax, and go out with his friends.

In the future, Jamy plans to attend college, get a good job, and start a family.

Good luck as a senior grappler, Jamy!!!

Playing Hockey With Style

Field hockey at Quakertown is traditionally thought of as a girls' sport, however, Gary Grim has turned this stereotype around. Gary participated in the National Sports Festival in Baton Rouge, Louisiana from July 26 to August 4, as a member of the under-21 East Squad.

Gary became interested in field hockey because his older brother, Harry, participated as a member of the men's field hockey team. Gary saw an exciting opportunity to travel and do something that most of his friends would never get the chance to do. Gary had only begun to play hockey a year prior to being chosen as a member of the elite team. Among his other great accomplishments as a hockey player are his membership in the Lehigh Valley Field Hockey Men's Team and the achievement of becoming a member of the Keystone State Games in his first year of competition.

Through individual efforts and tremendous cooperation from Mrs. Quinque and Mr. Zitta, the class of 1986 succeeded in overcoming the hardships and struggles we have had to face these past twelve years. All of the effort we have put in, from school work to selling items for our class trip to Florida, has paid off and we can finally say we made it!

Coming into the high school as sophomores, we were faced with a whole new type of atmosphere and people. We worked hard in classes such as World Cultures and Geometry. Even though our chances of going to Florida were slim, we earned credit by selling meat and cheese and Dorney Park tickets.

In eleventh grade, Florida became more of a reality and again we sold meat and cheese and candy bars to help earn credit. A big help in boosting our credit was working at the wrestling and basketball concession stands in the winter. This year's courses focused on studies such as American Literature and United States Cultures.

Our senior year was fulfilled with our dream come true: the Florida trip. We had a variety of campaigns to earn credit ranging from selling hoagies, cookies, and candy bars to playbook ads. Seniors also worked at the football and soccer concession stands in the fall. We spent hours of time studying for our English Literature and Political Science classes. We showed our enthusiasm and hope for an exciting year by participating in the various school sports and clubs. Before we knew it, it was time to get measured for our caps and gowns and we started applying to the colleges of our choice.

Although our stay at Quakertown Senior High was over, our last year marked only the beginning of our learning experience.

Boy On Ice

Dana Potter is a Quakertown student who has grown up on ice. He started playing hockey at the young age of ten for the Glacier Ice Hockey Club. During that period, Dana traveled up and down the East coast and into Canada where he picked up many awards and trophies for his outstanding work, including four MVP trophies.

After a four year stay with the Glaciers, Dana made one of the most prestigious teams in joining the Little Flyers. During his first year with the Little Players, he was the second highest scorer on the team with 85 points. Also in the same year, he played for the Souderton Area High School and was voted team captain. While with Souderton, he led the team in scoring for two years in a row and made the all-Suburban All-Star team.

Last year, he played for the Valley Forge Colonial Junior "C" team and was second leading scorer. This year Dana is playing for a men's team in Warminster Pa. At the present time he is second on the team in points behind his brother, Kile.

Future Producer

Have you ever wondered what it's like to be in a music video? If you ask Delbert Roll, he may put you in one. For his independent study class assignment in Drama, Delbert plans to direct, edit, and film a short movie/video production. He wants to try to get as many people involved as he can. The video will be based around the Duran-Duran song "A View to a Kill". It will be a kind of spy-assassin type film with your good guy/bad guy and mystery hero type characters.

With time and cooperation, Del hopes that he can achieve recognition in this field.

With An Eye To The Sky

If you look up in the sky, and don't see a bird or superman, it could be James Cleet behind the yoke of a small plane.

Last year, Jim received a thousand dollar scholarship from the Civil Air Patrol. Jim started flying at the Quakertown Airport.

The procedure for getting a pilot's license consists of: a written test, forty hours of flying time, a passing score on a practical test with an F.A.A. instructor.

Jim plans to make a career out of flying and is hoping to enter the United States Air Force Academy

Vacation In Europe

Most of us spent the hot, sunny summer days swimming and going to the shore. Beth Gibson, however, got a chance to travel to Europe.

Beth spent three months staying with friends of her family and traveling between Paris, London, and Spain. After arriving in France, she journeyed to London and spent four days there before returning to Paris. In mid-July, she spent three weeks in Spain, which she enjoyed the most. Then it was back to Paris to finish out her vacation.

Beth enjoyed seeing the things that she'll probably never have the chance to see again.

An Artist On The Rise

Becky Leister is an extremely talented artist. This past summer she spent a month in the South of France and in Paris. While there, Becky studied painting, drawing, and Art History. In the past few years she has also attended classes at the Baum School of Art, and Pre-college classes at Moore College of Art.

She is a rising talent that hails from a family of artists. Becky has two sisters now attending art schools and all three girls are supported in their art interests by their artist parents.

A Special Knack

"How do you say?" is a phrase often spoken by Shizuko since English words often escape her. Shizuko Miyakawa is one of our foreign exchange students this year. She came to the United States in September from Turin, Italy where she was born.

Among her interests, Shizuko especially likes to study languages. She is currently studying English, French III, and German II. She also knows Japanese and, of course, Italian. She plans to further her studies in these languages with hopes to use them in her future career.

Shizuko is involved in the school choir and she will also participate on the softball team. Some of her other hobbies include reading and watching TV.

Even though Shizuko misses Italy, she likes the United States very much. She is presently staying with a host family and has plans to go back to Italy after graduation.

*A Special Thank You Goes To Our Class
Advisors, Mrs. Quinque And Mr. Zitta*

Class advisors Mr. Zitta and Mrs. Quinque

Dear Seniors,

It's hard to believe that your high school career has ended. I hope that your school experiences have been favorable ones. Now you face a new horizon, whether it be work, the military or college, I challenge you to seize the opportunities which your future holds, using them to make not only your life, but also the people around you, one which is filled with success and happiness.

I'm glad that Mrs. Quinque and I were able to co-advise you. You are a great class and I'm proud of your accomplishments. I will miss many of you. Good luck to all of the Class of 1986

Sincerely,
R A. Zitta

To the Class of 1986.

As you travel the road of life, gather as many of life's experiences as you can to equip yourself to make a contribution in society. Keep a positive approach toward life's challenges and it will pave the way to success.

Although your years here have ended, you will still need to work hard and be disciplined. Always look ahead reaching for your goal. It's fine to be content with what you have, but never with what you are!

Good Luck and happiness always,
Mrs. Quinque

Seniors Fun 'N' Sun Florida Trip

Florida 86' (As told by Mr. Zitta)

We went to Florida together, an adventure we must say.
We laughed and cried throughout it; in the Gala Vista we did stay.
Sometimes our patience was tested, but through it we all came
For the famous class of 86 will surely be listed in the Traveler's Hall of Fame.

We thank you for your patience and your understanding too,
And we're so proud that the problems you caused us were oh so few.

So it's back to Quakertown we go, the finish is so near,
A finish of a crazy trip that ends your senior year.
So now we will return and even though we're the latest,
The Class of 86 will always be remembered as one that was the greatest.

On May 3, Seniors eagerly departed from Quakertown on a long bus ride to Philadelphia Airport where they boarded a chartered flight to Orlando, Florida and Disney World.

The first two days of the trip were spent at the Magic Kingdom and at Epcot. Seniors and chaperones spent these two days walking around the parks, buying souvenirs, going on rides such as Space Mountain and the Haunted Mansion, and visiting representations of countries such as Morocco and Canada. The third day was spent at Wet'n Wild. Here some seniors experienced the Slides Der Stuka and the Kamikaze while sunning themselves in the Florida sun. At night they were treated to a dinner and show at a Polynesian Luau. Seniors spent their last day of vacation at Sea World. Shows such as the Sealion Otter shows were performed throughout the day and everyone had an opportunity of visiting the Japanese village and seeing baby Shamu, the new addition to Sea World.

Upon arriving at the Orlando airport from Sea World, the class was supposed to have boarded the plane for Philadelphia, but after a wait of three hours, seniors and chaperones were advised that their plane had experienced mechanical difficulties and could not be boarded. This meant another night in Florida so it was back to the Gala Vista Motor Lodge. Seniors finally arrived in Quakertown at 5 p.m. on May 7 about 24 hours later than originally planned.

The delay was handled well by everyone involved, and in spite of the tiring ordeal no member of the class of 1986 shall ever forget this last great experience of high school camaraderie.

Baccalaureate: A New Beginning

Baccalaureate was just the beginning of the very end of an eventful three years for the class of 1986. It was a hot Sunday evening in the auditorium on June 8, 1986, but the fifty-eighth annual Baccalaureate ceremony was a night of honor and hope for those graduating seniors.

After the processional, the hymn "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee" was sung and a call to worship and invocation was made by the Reverend Ray C. Lindberger. The concert choir also sang two numbers, Beethoven's "Hallelujah" (from Mount of Olives) and "How Majestic Is Your Name."

The highlight of the evening was the speaker, Reverend Earnest C. Diefenderfer. He emphasized the fact that one's life is affected in an unusual way by graduation. It is not only an ending to school years, but it is also a new beginning to the outside, adult world and a look at what the future holds.

1) The first of the class of 1986 2) Rev. Lindberger looks on as the Rev. Diefenderfer delivers his message, 3) Choir members await the procession, 4) Derek Lawrence and Lisa Laubach after the recessional 5) Alan Dutcher leads his line in the procession

Commencement: Trust In Yourself

The graduating class parades up Park Avenue making their way to Alumni Field for the big event

The 1986 class motto, "Life is but an empty dream waiting to be filled," pertains to each individual as well as the class as a whole. Two hundred-seventy-three students graduated and set out to discover the world for themselves. Questions will be asked, answers will be received, and dreams will be filled

Each person must look at himself and decide what he wants most out of life. Then he must let nothing stand in his way. Class president, Jeni Grant said it best, "Trust in yourself, through your doubts and fears so you may find all the success and happiness that you can achieve." What Jeni was saying is that you must trust in yourself and you will go far, but doubt yourself and you will never go anywhere. Take advantages that come your way. Push yourself to do your best and you will do fine. Each and every senior who graduated is a special person. Everyone has something to offer the world. Be proud of who you are and give the world your best shot.
